

THE SUBURBAN CITIZEN

VOL. 13.

WASHINGTON, D. C., SATURDAY, JULY 27, 1901.

NO. 27.

SUMMARY OF THE NEWS.

Domestic.

President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated Association, visited Wellsville in disguise as a tramp to learn the condition of the plant that the company is trying to work with non-union men. He does not think any injunction will be granted unless the men resort to violence.

A shell fired from one of the battleships lying off Newport struck the City Hall of the town, making a hole in a granite block and bursting after striking a tree. No one was injured, although a number of people were near the flying missile.

Mr. Doty, health officer of the port of New York, diagnosed the case of the stoker of the Hohenfels, from Calcutta, as a mild case of bubonic plague.

Henry W. Taylor secured in Newport News, Va., a divorce from his wife, who had returned to her old home in Baltimore, refusing to live in Newport News.

Mrs. William H. Hoover, while asleep, walked through an open window of her home in Winchester, Va., and sustained injuries that will result in death.

John McFadden, who planned a jail delivery in Camden, N. J., to escape serving in default of $1,000, must now serve 1,000 days for so doing.

The grand jury in Newport News, Va., indicted Russell Van Arsdale for the murder of his great uncle, Robert Kelly.

Several encounters occurred between striking ice wagon drivers and men who sought to take their places in Columbus, Ohio.

Professor Edgar W. Abbott, of Butler University, was drowned while bathing in Broad Ripple Creek, near Indianapolis.

Thirty-one of the contractors in New York, employing in the aggregate 5000 people, have granted the demands of the garment workers. Strikers and sympathizers wrecked a shop in New York because the employees would not join them.

The Grand Lodge of Elks, in session at Milwaukee, elected officers. Charles E. Pickett had a walkover for grand elected ruler, and Henry W. Meers, of Baltimore, was elected grand treasurer after a spirited contest.

All the brotherhoods on the Lackawanna and Western have taken up the fight of the telegraphers. They claim the company has been dismissing them because of their activity in the union.

At Richmond in the Constitutional Convention Mr. Blair introduced a resolution exempting the property of Confederate soldiers from taxation to the amount of $1000.

Wm. H. Hunt, the present secretary of Porto Rico, has been chosen to succeed Governor Charles H. Allen when that officer retires.

Lieut. F. J. White, auditor of West Virginia University, was married at Knoxville, Tenn., to Miss Marian Hite Smith.

Ex-Chief of Police Harwood has sued Mayor Alan A. Amoss, of Newport News, for alleged defamation of character.

At Simmons, W. Va., a boarding-house keeper named Howaker shot and killed one of his boarders named French.

Elmer E. Barner was hanged at Harpersburg for the murder of Isaac Miller in August, 1900.

The machinists who had been on strike at Wilkesbarre applied for reinstatement in the shops of the Lehigh Valley Railroad and other mills. Many were taken back, but the places of others had been filled.

The coroner's jury in Winchester, Va., holds the Winchester Gas and Electric Light Company responsible for the death of Jacob Houck and Lewis Price, who were electrocuted by a live wire.

Foreign.

The Spanish Premier has announced that the army of Spain is to be reorganized, and new bases for naval operations are to be established.

Professor Brouardel, of Paris, read the principal paper in London before the British Congress on Tuberculosis.

The Chinese authorities are making no attempt to interfere or check the robbers who are swarming in the vicinity of Canton. The foreign consuls have been warned to prepare for an uprising.

There were 782 deaths among the 88,899 persons in the concentration camps in South Africa, including 576 children.

The shoemakers of Vienna have protested against the establishment of an American shoe house in that city.

A Russian mob attacked Jockey Sloan in Moscow because his mount did not win the race.

The Rev. Mr. Todd, an American clergyman, was robbed of $4,000 by sharpers in Geneva.

General Kitchener reports that the Boers derailed and captured a train of stores from Cape Town. Three British soldiers were killed and 18 wounded.

The Boers also attacked a force of 300 British in the mountains, and after an all-day engagement the British were forced to fall back.

At Stockholm, Sweden, by the explosion of petroleum on the American schooner Louise Adelaide, from Philadelphia, Captain Orr, to members of the schooner and four Swedish officials lost their lives.

OIL EXPLOSION ON SCHOONER ADELAIDE.

Captain Orr and Ten Members of Crew Perish.

FOUR SWEDISH OFFICERS KILLED.

The Vessel Left Philadelphia on April 24 With Over Two Hundred Thousand Gallons of Oil on Board, Struck a Storm Off the New England Coast, and Was Taken to Portland for Repairs.

Stockholm, Sweden (By Cable).—An explosion of the petroleum on board the American schooner Louise Adelaide, Captain Orr, which left Philadelphia on April 24 and Portland, Maine, on June 4, for Stockholm, resulted in the death of Captain Orr, 10 members of the schooner's crew and four Swedish customs officials. Two of the Louise Adelaide's crew were saved.

The explosion set the schooner afire and the blazing petroleum enveloped the vessel and those on board.

The Louise Adelaide left Philadelphia on April 24 for Stockholm. On May 13 she put into Dutch Island harbor, R. I., having encountered a heavy gale on the edge of the gulf stream. From Dutch Island harbor she was towed to Portland, Maine, for repairs, where she was refitted as a schooner and resumed her voyage for Stockholm on June 4.

The Louise Adelaide was built at Yarmouth, Maine, in 1882. She was 154 feet long, 34 feet beam and 12 feet deep, and registered 672 tons. She was owned by Edgar Orr, of Portland, Maine.

Philadelphia (Special).—The Louise Adelaide sailed from this port on April 24 with a cargo of 214,000 gallons of naphtha, 1600 barrels of crude petroleum and 250 barrels of refined petroleum, a total of 206,188 gallons.

The Louise Adelaide sailed from here as a barkentine, but soon after getting to sea she encountered storms and on May 14 was towed into Portland damaged. There she was rigged as a schooner and proceeded on her voyage.

Captain Orr had been in command of the vessel for about 13 years. He hailed from Portland, where his widow lives. His ship was formerly called the Louise A. Orr.

FAMILY PERISH IN TENEMENT FIRE.

Mother and Three Children Killed in Pittsburgh—Husband Escapes.

Pittsburg (Special).—Four members of a family were burned to death in a Penn avenue tenement fire shortly before 8 o'clock a. m. The mother and three children are dead and the husband is badly burned. The explosion of an oil can was the cause of the fire.

Mrs. Ratz was preparing breakfast in her apartment on the third floor of the tenement house in the rear of 2716 Penn avenue shortly before 8 o'clock a. m. The fire in the kitchen stove was not burning as quickly as she wanted it to, and she took an oil can and poured some of the oil on the fire. In a moment a blaze from the grate of the stove ignited the oil in the can and an explosion, which was heard through the house, followed.

Count Tolstol Convalescent.

Tula, European Russia (By Cable).—Count Leo Tolstol, who has been critically ill, is now out of danger and convalescent.

HEAT RECORDS SMASHED.

Little Prospect of Relief From These Exhausting Conditions in the West.

Washington (Special).—One-hundred-degree temperatures were common throughout the great corn belt Monday, according to the reports to the Weather Bureau here. In various places in Illinois, Iowa and other States all previous heat records were smashed. There appears to be no prospect of decided relief from these exhausting conditions for the next two days at least, except such as may come from the always present possibility of scattered thunderstorms, which are predicted for some portions of the superheated area.

Thunderstorms, unaccompanied by some rain, prevailed in several sections of the West, hundreds of miles apart. They temporarily cooled the atmosphere but brought no relief to the famishing crops. Absolutely no rain fell in the corn belt, according to the official reports received here.

In Western Iowa it was a trifle cooler while in the central portion of the State it was warmer. There is a little belt of high pressure over the Great Lakes and another over the South Atlantic Coast but it offers no prospect of relief in the West so long as the continued low pressure remains in the Northwest.

The warm weather again was general throughout the entire country except on the Pacific Coast. In the East the temperature, while high, did not approach anywhere the extremes prevailing in the West, and a recurrence of the hot wave of two weeks ago is believed to be unlikely in the Atlantic Coast region. Thunder showers have continued from the South Atlantic Coast westward into Arizona, and a continuation of them is predicted for the South and Southwest.

In Des Moines, Iowa, the temperature officially reported was 108 degrees; in Springfield, Ill., 108 degrees; in Cincinnati, 106 degrees, and in Louisville, 106 degrees, in each case breaking all past records. In Indianapolis it also was 106 degrees, 5 degrees higher than ever before reported.

In St. Louis it was 106 degrees; Omaha, 104 degrees; Bismarck, N. D. 104, and Concordia, Kan., 102 degrees.

AMBUSH REVENUE MEN.

One Killed and One Badly Wounded by Moonshiners in Tennessee.

Nashville, Tenn. (Special).—Seven revenue officers were ambushed supposedly by moonshiners, about six miles from Monterey, in Putnam county. One man was killed and one badly wounded.

A posse of six, led by a deputy collector, was creeping along a steep hillside, above an illicit still, when they received orders to throw up their hands. They had barely located the speaker, 40 feet below them, when a deadly volley from eight guns was poured upon them.

Deputy Marshal Thomas Price was instantly killed and Posseman C. Mackey was badly wounded. The officers returned the fire, but the moonshiners made the place so hot that Collector Bell and the survivors retired and carried Mackey with them. One moonshiner was heard moaning and calling to his friends that he had been mortally wounded.

ROCK DOWN EMBARKMENT.

Denver (Special).—One mile west of Marshall Pass a Pullman sleeper broke loose from a westbound passenger train on the narrow gauge line of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad and rolled down an embankment. Eleven passengers were injured, but none was killed. The car turned completely over and alighted on its trucks 14 feet below the track. The cause of the accident is unknown.

AN INSANE MAN RUNS AMUCK.

Michael Kelly's Terrible Work at Leavenworth, Kansas.

TWO OF HIS VICTIMS ARE DEAD.

The Murderer Finally Killed by Officers Who Tried to Overpower Him—Lost His Mind During the Presidential Campaign of 1896—Saw He Would Kill the Men Who Had Him Sent to an Asylum.

Leavenworth, Kan. (Special).—Michael Kelly, an insane man, at the office of the Robert Garrett Lumber Company, in the business district, shot six persons, killing one, probably fatally wounding another and more or less seriously wounding four others. He was himself finally killed by officers who tried to overpower him.

Kelly had lived in Leavenworth for years and at different times engaged in minor business enterprises. He was eccentric, and during the Presidential campaign in 1896 lost his mind entirely. At that time he threatened to kill Garrett. He was arrested and adjudged insane, Garrett and four others testifying against him. After a year in the Topeka Asylum Kelly was released.

Recently he had been acting queerly again, and declared that he would kill the five men who sent him to the asylum. For the last two weeks he has been practicing shooting with a pistol at the Fort Leavenworth range. Tuesday night he drank heavily.

Soon after noon Wednesday he went to Garrett's office and without warning shot Garrett, as he sat at his desk. Garrett fell to the floor and Kelly deliberately fired four more shots into the body. Leaving his victim for dead Kelly ran to the rear of the lumber yard and began reloading his pistol. Returning to the office he found Dr. McGee, who had been attracted by the shooting, bending over Garrett. Kelly fired at the physician, the bullet striking Dr. McGee in the spine, and he fell near where Garrett lay.

Then followed an exciting street fight between the madman and officers who came upon the scene. Kelly, flourishing his pistol, ran through the lumber yard. He met Isaac Healer, a laborer and shot him in the hand. A few yards further on he encountered Sergeant Dodge. The two exchanged shots as they ran. One bullet from Kelly's weapon struck Dodge in the neck, but not before that officer had shot the madman in the shoulder. Kelly kept running and was soon confronted by Detective McDonald and Policeman Falthager. McDonald dropped Kelly with a bullet in the neck. Dodge raised his pistol but it failed to work, and catching up with the murderer he crushed his skull with the weapon.

Kelly was carried to the station in an unconscious condition, dying soon after his arrival.

ONE HUNDRED-MILLION DOLLAR.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing has completed a portion of the work on the one-dollar certificates, series of 1899. Monday the institution turned out the one-hundredth-millionth bill and the Treasury Department officials gave orders that the next bill issued shall be numbered "1-A." The work is of a high character and the employees of the bureau have been engaged at extra hours to do the work with the least possible delay.

Rejoice Carnegie's Gift.

Pittsburg (Special).—Knoxville borough will not accept Andrew Carnegie's offer of $5,000 for the erection of a free library. The citizens propose to raise their own funds when they are ready to build a library, and will maintain the institution by taxation. Mr. Carnegie in his offer required the borough to furnish $3000 a year for maintenance. This is 20 per cent of the endowment and the people declare that the assessment is too high.

Mrs. McKinley Sues.

Ely, Nev. (Special).—Suit has begun in the United States Court at Carson by Mrs. Ida McKinley and Mrs. Mary B. Barber against John Steele, William Hayer and others to recover possession of the Elijah mine, one of the patented claims of the Canton Mining Company on which Steele, Hayer and others are operating, and also for $100,000 damages for ore taken out and shipped by them during the period of their occupancy of the mine.

Lightning Strikes Her Dumb.

Altoona, Pa. (Special).—During a severe storm Monday the home of Adam Fishel was struck by lightning. Mr. and Mrs. Fishel were rendered unconscious by the shock. Mrs. Fishel is still in a precarious condition, having lost the power of speech.

The unconscious couple were rescued from the burning house just in time to save their lives. The homes of R. V. Ayers, C. V. Demaree and William Klink, in the same neighborhood, were struck and the occupants were all shocked, Mrs. Klink seriously.

Teacher Lost Life in Fire.

Syracuse, N. Y. (Special).—The Shelter for Homeless Girls, in this city, was destroyed by fire. Forty-one inmates escaped in their night clothes by the fire escapes. Miss Phoebe Miller, of Lansingville, N. Y., a teacher at the Shelter, was burned to death. Her body was recovered. It is thought that a lamp exploded in Miss Miller's room and that the burning oil set fire to her clothing.
